ANNUAL BANQUET AT DELMONICO'S -THE SAINT. THE COUNTRY, THE STATE AND THE CITY

The members of the St. Nicholas Society passed a very enjoyable evening last night at Delmonico's on the occasion of their anniversary dinner. Among the members and guests present were:—Edward F. Delancey, president; Mayor Cooper, Rev. Dr. Schenck, Judge J. R. Brady, Major A. B. Gardner, Mr. R. C. Burlage, Minister Resident of the Netherlands; W. H. Bogert, Chief Justice Daly, president of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick; Mr. Richardson, of the St. George's Society; J. S. Konnedy, of the St. Andrew's Society; William Remsen, Commissioner Lane, H. Knickerbacker, Dr. James Anderson, Police Commissioner Voorhis, W. J. Van Arsdale, Paul S. Forbes, Judge Lawrence, Andrew G. Hammersley, C. C. Wasson, John Fitch and Cornelius Vanderbilt-

After the solid comforts of the banquet had been disposed of Mr. Edward Delancey, president of the society, called the assemblage to order and gave a brief history of the organization. He said that its members represented solely the descendants of New Yorkers who were New Yorkers under the Dutch, under the English and when New York was a sovereign State, as also when it became an integral part eign State, as also when it became an integral part of the United States. It was their duty to see that the old social habits and customs of New York should be maintained in their integrity.

The gilded weather-cock and the little statue of St. Nicholas, mounted on long batons, were then solemnly borne finto the room preceded by a crier playing the cornet, as a signal for the ceremonies to begin. This was the occasion for load crowings and general laughter and applause.

St. Nicholas toasted.

The toast, "St Nicholas, the best of saints; may his genial worship ever keep us a united people," was then given, and the band played "Mynheer Van Dônek." At its conclusion Mr. William H. Bogert responded. How could St. Nicholas be eulogized better, he asked, than by that one word "saint?" When a man had survived the centuries and the title of Saint remained to him it was not something evanescent, but something real which identified him with that which was good, and which was of the nobility of nature. But the toast in its broader sense stood for the foundation of New York.

The toast, "The President's March." That to the "Governor of the State of New York" was received in the same manner, and replied to by "The Governor's March."

"The City of New York" was the next toast, after which "Home, Sweet Home" was played. Mayor Cooper was called upon to respond, and, after a in the same manner, and repined to by The Governor's March."

"The City of New York" was the next toast, after which "Home, Sweet Home" was played. Mayor Cooper was called upon to respond, and, after a few words of thanks, said that he would ask Judge Brady to speak for him. Judge Brady, in responding to the toast, said he did not see why he should be called upon when so many of the Mayor's employes were present. (Laughter.) He felt more like a Dutchman since he had worn the orange ribbon and could himself speak a little Dutch, a sentence or two of which he delivered in his own peculiar dialect, and sat down amid general laughter and appliance.

or two of which he delivered in his own peculiar dialect, and sat down amid general laughter and applianse.

"Our Country; Now and Forever, One and Indivisible," was responded to by Judge Noah Davis, after the strains of the "Star Spangled Banner" had been rendered by the voices of the assemblage. The audience would pardon him, he said, if he went no further back than the period in which the Dutch were in possession of New York. It might be taken as a hint to the Mayor, but he would venture to assert that during that period the streets of New York were cleaner than they were to-day, although they were formed of the paths along which the cows travelled to pasture, (Laughter and applause.) To-day, he said, this country was the greatest the sun shone upon for the advancement of the human family, and one in which the doors were more widely opened to all classes of citizens than any other. "We must maintain in its purity its institutions," he exclaimed, "as devised to us by our fathers. We must not let party spirit destroy these institutions, but we must hand them down to posterity pure as we received them."

"The Army and Navy" was the toast responded to by Major Asa B. Gardner, of the United States Army, He referred to the nucleus of the army which in 1784 was reduced to one company, and that stationed at West Point and its muster roll contained exclusively Dutch names. In the course of his remarks he mentioned Major General Hancock, whose name was received with three rousing cheers and a tiger.

Mr. Rudolph C. Burlage, the Cor sul General of General Hancock, whose name was received with three rousing cheers and a tiger.

Mr. Rudoiph C. Burlage, the Corsul General of the Netherlands, was next introduced, and in a few words thanked the members of the society for their greeting, and concluded his remarks concerning the society by the sentiment of Rip Van Winkle, "May it live long and prosper."

Rev. Dr. Schenck spoke on the toast "The Founders of New Amsterdam;" and "Our Sister Societies," the last on the programme, found a respondent in Mr. Chauncey M. Depew.

AID FOR THE KANSAS REFUGEES.

The steamer Cornwall, of the Great Western steam ship line, arrived at this port yesterday from Bris-tol, England, having on board a number of large cases containing wearing apparel and household ute donated by the residents of that city to the colored Kansas refugees. These articles were transported free of charge by the owners of the Cornwall. The freight agents of the New York Central Railroad have signified their willingness to carry the goods over their road as far as Topeka, Kan., free of expense, and the State Department has issued orders to let them pass through the Custom House for a nominal sum. DR. TALMAGE'S TRIAL.

The Synod of Long Island for the hearing of the appeal from the verdict of the Brooklyn Presbytery · in the case of the Rev. Dr. Talmage, which was to convene to-morrow evening at Jamaica, will not meet until the 15th, owing to a delay in printing the minutes of the trial which made it impossible for the members to fully consider the testimony.

HACKENSACK'S BANK.

In view of the fact that the legality of the recent meeting of the stockholders of the Hackensack National Bank, at which it was voted to put the bank into voluntary liquidation, was doubted, another ting was held yesterday at which 801 shares of stock were represented. During the interim the New York banks through the agency of Mr. C. N. Jordan, cashier of the Third National, made such disposition of the stock, formerly owned by President Voorhis, as to entitle it to legal representation. Mr. De Groot acted as chairman of the meeting, and the vote taken to have the bank go into voluntary liquidation was unanimously in favor of the plan. An advisory committee, whose functions will be to act in conjunction with the liquidator and Board of Directors in the settlement of the bank's affairs, was then appointed as follows:—John Swinburne, cashier of the First National Bank of Paterson; C. N. Jordan, cashier of the Third National of New York; Mr. Young, cashier of the First National Bank of Jersey City, and Mr. A. Hardenbergh, president of the Hudson County National of Jersey City (in place of Mr. Baylis, of the Market National Bank, New York, resigned). Immediately after the stockholders meeting the Board of Directors convened and ratified the action taken by the stockholders. Under the plan just adopted the examiner and directors both assert that the depositors will be paid in rull within thirty days. The meeting was in every respect harmonious, and it is said by those in authority, to be in conformity with the views of the Comptroller of the Currency. It was desired by a number of the stockholders present to resume business on a new basis and totally different management, but this depends entirely upon the amount and condition of assets, after a settlement has been effected with the depositors. Jordan, cashier of the Third National, made such

ROBBING AN ALDERMAN.

When Alderman De Voursney, of Newark, reached his home, corner of Broad and Emmet streets, late on Friday night, he heard footsteps coming down stairs. Supposing it to member of his family, he asked what was the matter. There was no reply, but the footsteps quickened, and before the Alderman had time to reflect the person darted past him into the street. An overcoat and some silverware were miss-ing. Mrs. Paul's residence in the neighborhood was also rifled of similar property.

THE HARLEM TRAGEDY.

Coroner Ellinger held an inquest yesterday, at the Hariem Police Station, on the body of Antonio Celendono, who was murdered on Thursday night last in his apartments, at No. 423 East 111th street, by Frank Bello. Although a number of witnesses were ex-amined, the only testimony of importance was given by Antonio Ramoto, who deposed to the facts as already published. as aiready published.

The jury found that Celendono came to his death from wounds indicted by Bello, and they held Accetta as an accomplice.

WAR ON CROOKED WHISKEY.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD.]

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 6, 1879.

A despatch received here from Washington says that Commissioner Raum, of the Revenue Department, has sent fifty guns and equipments to Atlanta, and instructed Collector Clark to make up a force at once to raid the gangs of moonshiners in the mountains. Two special Treasury agents are here, and there is unusual activity in revenue circles.

Marshal Fitzsimmons, it is said, has been completely sustained against the charges made against OBITUARY.

THE DUKE OF PORTLAND. Duke and sixth Earl of Portland, fifth Marquis of Titchfield, sixth Viscount Woodstock and Baron grace was born at Cavendish square, London, September, 1800, being the eldest son of William Henry Cavendish Bentinck, fourth duke by Henrietta, daughter of General John Scott, of Balcomie, Fifeshire, Scotland. He was one of the greatest landowners in England, possessed a magnificent seat at Welbeck Abbey, Worksop, Nottinghamshire, at Bothal Castle, Northumberland, and at Fullerton House, Ayrshire, Scotland. The family descended from William Bentinck, Lord of Diepenheim, Overyssel, Holland, the celebrated favorite and confidential adviser of William of Orange when he invaded England in 1688, and was rewarded the following year, April 9, 1688, and was rewarded the following year, April 9, 1689, with the earldom of Portland (Dorsetshire), the viscounty of Woodstock and the barony of Cirencester. It will be remembered that Bentwick commanded the Dutch regiment of horse guards, bore a distinguished part as lieutenant general in the battle of the Boyne and in the negotiation of the peace of Ryswick, and was made a Knight of the Garter in 1697. He was twice married, first to Anne, daughter of Sir Edward Villiers, and second to a daughter of Sir John Temple. The history of this Dutch adventurer, who died November 23, 1709, is familiar to the readers of Macaulay. His son Henry married a daughter of the Earl of Gainsborough, was created Marquis of Titenfield (Hampshire) and Duke of Portland July 6, 1716, became Governor of Jamaica and died there July 4, 1726. William, the second duke, born in 1708, was a Knight of the Garter, married Margaret Cavendish Harley, only daughter and heir of the second Earl of Oxford (the Peggy of Prior's poems) and died in 1762. William Henry Cavendish Bentinek, K.G., the third duke, born in 1738, was an eminent statesman and favorite of George III. He became Viceroy of Ireland in 1782, Prime Minister in 1783 and again from 1807 to his death, October 30, 1809. He had married in 1766 Lady Dorothy Cavendish, daughter of the foorth Duke of Devonshire. William Henry Cavendish, the fourth Duke, was a Fellow of the Royal Society and of the Society of Antiquaries, and derived his chief title to fame from his gift to the British Museum in 1810 of the celebrated Barberiai or Portland vase, supposed to have once held the ashes of Alexander Severus or those of a member of his family. His brother, Lord William Charles Bentinek, was a celebrated general and diplomatist during the Napoleonic wars, and was-rom 1817 to 1835.—One of the most popular Governors General of British India. He was a triend and protector of the natives of India, who testified their gratitude by specting an equestrian status at Calcutta. Lord George Bentinek (1802-1689, with the earldom of Portland (Dorsetshire) the viscounty of Woodstock and the barony of Cir-

The death is announced from London, by cable, in his seventy-ninth year, of Sir William Boxall, R. A., National Gallery. He was born at Oxford in 1800, and entered, in his twentieth year, the schools of the Royal Academy. In 1829 he exhibited "Milton's Reconcilation With His Wife," in 1830 "Cordelia" and in 1833 "Hope," On his return from a visit to Italy, in 1833, he devoted him self to portrait painting, a branch in which he continued. In 1851 he was elected an associate of the Academy and in 1863 a full member. He has been a constant exhibitor. Among his works are several illustrations for the Waverley novels. At the death of Sir Charles Eastlake in 1865 he was appointed director of the National Gallery, and in 1871 was knighted by the Queen. Ill health obliged him in 1874 to retire from his position. Sir William was an honorary member of the Madrid Academy of San Fernando.

Harbor Master James M. Thompson died at his day morning. Mr. Thompson was well known in local pointies and was always an active worker in the ranks of the republican organization. He was first appointed Harbor Master in 1864 and held the position for five years. In 1872 he was reappointed by Governor Dix, and had held the position ever since. During the years of his office Mr. Thompson had charge of the First division, embracing the water front from pier 40 East River to the Harlem River.

IRA CANFIELD.

Ira Canfield, of the firm of Canfield Brothers & Co., jewellers, of Baltimore, Md., died suddenly last evening, aged sixty-seven years. He was widely in benevolent work. For a quarter of a century he had been a zealous member of the Presbyterian

A LLOOCK'S POROUS PLASTER

RESTORES NERVOUS ENERGY-CURES NEU-

Lumbago, sciatica, lung and spleen troubles, weak joints from wounds, neuralgia from similar causes and ocal rheumatism are often cared at once by ALLCOCK'S PLASTERS. They, in fact, seem to restore the electric condition of the part, and, that being restored, pain an . norbid action cease.

PERFECT CURE OF NEURALGIA.

EXCHANGE BANK, MINOOKA, III., I lost a leg in the late war, since which, until a year ago,

I have suffered greatly from neuralgia in my stump. A year ago I began using your POROUS PLASTER on the stump. I wear one constantly, and have no neuralgia. write, thinking it may benefit some poor unfortunate who has suffered as I have done. DANIEL FERGUSON.

A CONDUCTOR'S STORY; WARM! No. 38 WEST 128TH ST., NEW YORK, 1

My DEAR SIR-Having suffered dreadfully during th einter months, for the past twenty years, with neuralgities of various kinds of medicines, with no relief whater I was at last induced to try ALLCOCK'S POROUS PL TERS. I applied it to the back and both sides of my ne After having worn it a few days, to my great Joy the neu raigis entirely disappeared and did not return again during the winter. The fore part of last month I had another attack, and immediately applied one of ALLCOCK'S PLASTERS; after a couple of days the neuralgia disappeared and I have been free from it ever since. With me these PLASTERS work to a charm and are indispensable,

EDWARD S. CALDWELL, Conductor N. Y. C. and H. R. R., Hudson River Division

We know these PLASTERS are the best the world ever saw, and we warrant them equal to what they have ever
